

SAVED FISHERMEN, DORY AND CATCH FAR OUT AT SEA

Rescued Derelicts Insist that Sixty Codfish Be Hauled Aboard Liner.

LOST ON DARK OCEAN.

Schooner Disappeared from Two Castaways in Their Half-Swamped Boat.

Far out at sea, off the coast of New Jersey, two fishermen, in a dory half filled with water, were picked up last evening by the French steamship La Bretagne, which brought them to port today. Floundering about the bottom of the water-filled dory were sixty codfish, the product of the lost fishermen's day's work.

When the big French liner how down upon them and her engines stopped as she came within a ship's length of the little dory, the fishermen pleaded that their boat, as well as their fish be saved, too. It was easy for good-natured Capt. Verlynde, of the liner, to allow the steamship to drop back until her great stern hung like a sheltering roof above the heads of the men in the bobbing dory.

In a twinkling falls were lowered and the Bretagne's men soon had the little boat on davits, men, fish and all, at the deck level. The passengers watched with interest the operation of gripping two humans from the deep. The fishermen were so grateful for their escape from a watery grave that they distributed their nice fresh codfish among the officers, and there was plenty to furnish a fish course for the first cabin diners.

Max Johnson and Charles Wandell, of No. 57 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, were the rescued men. They are members of the crew of the smack Litcher, which put out from Fulton Market several days ago, for the fishing grounds. Johnson and Wandell rowed away from the smack yesterday morning early off Seabright, and were returning with their haul when they lost track of their schooner. Just before dark the lights of the Bretagne were seen. The look-out on the steamship caught the distress signals of the castaways.

POLICE SLASH BERLIN MEN IN STREET MARCH

With Drawn Sabres Mounted
Guards Charge Unemployed and Wound Many.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—There was a serious clash late this afternoon between the police of this city and a number of unemployed men who earlier in the day had attended one of several mass meetings organized for men out of work and addressed by the Socialists. The police used their sabres when the crowd hurled missiles at them, and before order was restored many men were wounded.

The demonstrators, when they encountered the police marching down the Schiffbauergarten, near the Lustgarten. The authorities tried to disperse them. The men at once took up a position around several piles of tiles before a new theatre building and began hurling the tiles at the police. The policemen were at once reinforced by a mounted detachment, which charged the crowd with drawn sabres. The men scattered and fled, but not before many had been injured.

POLICEMAN SHOT GOING TO AID OF SLEUTH, DYING

Bullet Came from Weapon
Gripped by Detective and Giant Prisoner.

JOHN LOUGHMAN.

John Loughman, thirty-five years old, a policeman attached to the Fifth street station, was shot and mortally wounded early today while going to the aid of Detective John J. Allen, who was struggling with Peter Conroy, a giant ironworker, of No. 108 East One Hundred and Fourth street, for possession of the detective's pistol.

The detective's face had been beaten raw with his own blackjack by the powerful ironworker when he called for help and drew his pistol. Conroy gripped his wrist and a fight for the weapon began. At Allen's shout for help Loughman, who was in plain clothes on his way to report for duty, rushed toward him. There were two pistol shots just before he reached them, and Loughman sank to the floor. Allen is attached to the Harlem branch of the Detective Bureau, and was sent out at midnight to watch for pickpockets on the Third avenue cars from Fort George. He boarded a south-bound car, and says he noticed Conroy, who appeared to have been drinking, jostling passengers. He warned him, but Conroy ignored him.

Conroy is six feet tall, has muscles as hard as the iron he handles, and weighs more than 200 pounds. He pushed the detective back, and when the latter drew a blackjack Conroy took it away from him and fearfully beat him over the head. Allen shouted to stop the car. Passengers began to fight to get off, some going out of the windows. The motorman knew police would be station at One Hundred and Sixteenth street, and kept going.

The whole car was in an uproar by this time, and nearly every window had been broken. The detective pulled back and drew his pistol. Conroy went after him, and in the struggle he went off twice. At the shots the few remaining passengers jumped and fled. Conroy, Weyens and Churchill, of the Elizabeth street station, and Detective Brown, of the Twenty-third street station, went to the detective's aid and beat Conroy into submission.

Policeman Loughman, who lives at No. 152 East Eighty-fourth street, is unmarried, and has been on the force five years, was taken to Harlem Hospital by Dr. J. J. Conroy, who arrived in the city today, but it is believed he has no chance of recovery.

Cheery Children

A cheerful child will grow into a useful man or woman.
Let them have a good start in the morning.
Give them all they want of Elijah's Manna, the sweet, crisp, flake food made from White Corn.

Their eyes get bright because it "tastes so good," they become cheerful because Elijah's Manna does not make them "late to school"—it's all ready cooked.

The food of the Old Prophet is good for everybody, and especially for making children cheerful.

Sold by Grocers in large Family pkg. 15c.

is easily the most delicious flake food made. Trial proves! Be sure the food comes to the table crisp. When package is allowed to remain open the moisture of the air makes it tough. In such case insist that it be dried in an oven as per directions on pkg., then it is delicious.

"BLUE" SUNDAY ADVOCATES GET TWO KNOCKOUTS

Decisions Uphold Eden Musee and Other Shows and Picture Exhibits.

Justice Davis and Greenbaum, of the Supreme Court, administered knockout blows to those who have been seeking to close up every kind of Sunday amusements in decisions today.

The former holds that the Proctor One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Theatre Sunday show violates no clause of the charter or the Penal Code.

Justice Greenbaum granted the application for a continuance of the injunction restraining police interference with the Eden Musee exhibitions on Sundays, unaccompanied by any stage performance, pending the trial and final adjudication of the question of the legality of the exhibition on similar grounds, and holds in the cases of slot machines and stereopticon shows they are not covered by the Penal Code, the essential being "peace-destroying noises."

"All acts not otherwise unlawful and not prohibited by statute are lawful on Sunday," is the decision. "It seems to me that if the statute does not interfere with the kind of the Eden Musee is desirous of conducting on Sundays, then the circumstances that it is a private business enterprise does not bring it within the ban of any of the Sunday laws."

Justice Davis also continued the injunction obtained by the Keith & Proctor Amusement Company, restraining the police from interfering with the use of their One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street theatre on Sundays for the presentation of lectures and sacred or educational pictures connected with the lectures.

Justice Greenbaum, sitting in Part II, also decided the test case brought by Charles L. Hoffman in behalf of the moving picture men's organization, in which Lazare Valensi, proprietor of a stereopticon show at No. 122 Park Row and a slot machine picture and music show at No. 112 Third avenue was arrested and held as a matter of form by Magistrate Cornell and committed to the Tombs. Justice Greenbaum sustained the lawless corpus in each case on grounds applicable to it alone.

FOUR MORE AUTOS FOR CITY CHARITIES USE.

Two Are to Be Ambulances, but Other Pair Are for Department Officers.

Charities Commissioner Hebbard wants four more automobiles for the use of his department. Two are wanted as ambulances for the transfer of the sick and insane. The other pair of autos are for use by the department officials.

The Commissioner applied to the Board of Aldermen today for authority to buy the autos will cost $14,000. "Yes, and we get a bad deal, too, in public letting of contracts, as was witnessed when all the cars burst at the Parker Building fire," said Alderman Frank Bowling.

The Board voted for the autos, several Republican members swinging into line. There are a few jobs now on tap in the Charities Department.

KAISER MASKED MAKES MERRY AT BALL OF ROYALTY

Steals Away from Berlin to Kiel and Surprises Guests of His Son.

KAISER WILHELM.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—Emperor William paid a surprise visit to Kiel last night and attended a masked ball which was given by Prince Adalbert, one of his sons. The Emperor left Berlin on the royal train without announcing where he was going. Notice of his intention to come to Kiel was telegraphed to Prince Adalbert during the journey.

On the receipt of this message Prince Henry of Prussia, the Emperor's brother, who was a guest at the ball, immediately requisitioned eleven automobiles and met the Emperor and his suite at the railroad station.

Emperor William entered the ballroom wearing a domino. When this was taken off he was revealed clad in the brilliant uniform of the Grand Elector of Brandenburg. The Emperor derived the greatest amusement from this adventure. Crown Prince Frederick William and Prince Joachim, his younger brother, also were present at the ball.

Today the Emperor visited the navy yard at Kiel and then returned to Berlin.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause this vital fluid becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, disease in some form is sure to follow. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Boils, Pimples, etc., while they show on the skin, have an underlying cause which is far deeper—an impure, humor-infected blood supply, and until this is corrected, and the blood purified, the distressing itching and burning symptoms will remain. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders, are the result of a vitiated, polluted circulation, and will continue to grow worse unless the poison is removed from the blood. In all blood and skin diseases S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all waste matter, humors or poisons, and makes the blood pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited taints and old chronic troubles like S. S. S., it cures because it purifies the blood and restores lost properties to the impoverished circulation. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.
